This is a two-story cross-gabled Queen Anne style dwelling built ca. 1900. The dwelling has a continuous stone foundation, a gable roof of asphalt shingles, two interior brick chimneys and an exterior of vinyl siding. On the main façade (E) is a shed roof porch enclosed with vinyl siding and one-over-one double hung wood sash windows. The main entrance retains its original three-horizontal-light and two wood panel door flanked by one-over-one double hung sidelights. Above the door is a gable roof canopy supported by wood brackets. Windows are original, one-over-one double hung wood sash with some replacement six-over-six double hung vinyl sash. On the north façade is a two-story, chamfered bay with three, original windows. A Craftsman style five-over-one fixed-light glass and wood window is located in the gable field on the east façade. On the south façade is a ca. 1935, gable roof entry bay with an original, single-light glass and wood panel door above which is a gable roof wood canopy supported by wood brackets similar to one on the main entrance. Both entrances have wood stairs and wood railings.

Located to the rear of the dwelling is an original, one-story, frame, rebuilt two-bay garage with an exterior of vinyl siding, a hipped roof of asphalt shingles with skylights and two, metal panel overhead track doors.
